Brennan-Kuntz.

Miss Rosa Kuntz and Earl Brennan were married on Saturday morning at 6:30 o'clock at the Catholic church in this city. Rev. Father Redding officiating. John Brennan was best man and Miss Jennie Kuntz was bridesmaid. The ceremony was witnessed by a large number of the friends and relatives of the contracting parties, and after the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's mother at which there were a number of invited guests.

Both of the contracting parties are well known in this city, the bride being the daughter of Mrs. H. Kuntz and a most estimable young lady while the groom has grown up in the city and for some time past has been employed on the Green Bay & Western road as brakeman. They have many friends here who will unite with the Tribune in extending the warmest of congratulations and wishing them a long life of happiness.

Showered Their Friend.

The friends of Mrs. Earl Brennan held several showers during the past week, during which that young lady was the recipient of many beautiful and useful things. The first occurred last Wednesday evening when Miss Anna Mueller entertained about twenty young ladies at her home, spending the evening in a most enjoyable manner.

Then on Thursday evening Misses Mollie and Lydia Stahl entertained the Busy Bee club at their home in the honor of the bride to be, and the members of the club, among other things, presented Miss Kuntz with a handsome cut glass water set.

Then the First ward Finch club met at the home of Mrs. Brennan on Tuesday afternoon and brought along a large number of useful and ornamental articles and spent the afternoon very pleasantly.

Anderson-Podawiltz.

George Anderson of Oshkosh and Miss Mabel Podawiltz of this city were married at eight o'clock on Saturday evening at the Methodist parsonage, Rev. Richard Evans officiating. They were accompanied by Bert Smith and Miss Louise Podawiltz, who acted in the capacity of best man and bridesmaid. Only the immediate friends of the contracting parties were present at the ceremony.

Both of the interested parties are well known in this city, the groom having held the position of agent for the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Ry. company, being promoted to a similar position at Oshkosh. The bride has lived here all her life and has many friends here who will unite with the Tribune in wishing the newly wedded pair a long life of happiness. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson will make their home in Oshkosh.

Broke His Arm.

Earl Mann, who is employed as a green maker on machine No. 1 at the Consolidated, had his left arm broken above the wrist, while at work Friday night by getting it caught in a belt.

Sad Accident at the Point.

Mrs. J. D. Langowsky of Stevens Point was killed on Sunday afternoon and her husband and one child were badly injured by being struck by a Wisconsin Central train while crossing the railroad bridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Langowsky and their four children had been out to see the damage done by the cyclone that passed over that city and in order to get to the place by the shortest route had attempted to cross the railroad bridge. When on the bridge the afternoon passenger train came along, and before Mr. and Mrs. Langowsky and their 8 year old boy could get off the bridge they were struck by the train and thrown to the ground below. Mrs. Langowsky being instantly killed, while Mr. Langowsky and his boy were badly injured, although it is expected that both will recover.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Langowsky are well known in this city. Mr. Langowsky being a brother to Mrs. David Lutz, and the family has visited here often during the summer. Mrs. David Lutz went to Stevens Point on Monday, and Mrs. Jacob Lutz and Mrs. Ed Krause went over today to attend the funeral, which occurs today.

The accident was a sad and unnecessary one, as by a little presence of mind all of the parties could have got onto the piers that hold up the bridge and thus escaped injury, or they could have jumped to the ground, and while their injury may have been painful, it is not at all probable that it would have ended in the tragic manner that it did.

Mr. Langowsky is engaged in the cigar business at Stevens Point and is quite prominent in politics there.

A small wreck occurred on the St. Paul on Tuesday morning, the time freight No. 35 running into the switch train near Nekoosa, throwing the locomotive off the track and derailing six box cars and a passenger car. The crew got off without any damage, and while the road was blocked by the wreck the Wisconsin Central track was used for traffic.

MUCH DAMAGED DONE

Cyclone Sweeps Thru This Section Causing Great Loss of Farm Property

Two cyclones visited this section of the country on Wednesday evening of last week and one man was killed and a great damage was done to farm buildings, hay stacks and outbuildings. While wind storms are a trouble in this section, it seems hardly possible that one cyclone did all the damage that occurred in this neighborhood, as a part of it was on the east side of the river and a part on the west, and the general opinion seemed to be that the general direction of the storm was north and south.

On the east side of the river between Meclum and Kellner, the wind storm struck the house of Charles Lauffer in the town of Grant, Portage county, killing Mr. Lauffer and injuring the other two members of the family. Mr. and Mrs. Lauffer were sitting at home, and their daughter was lying on a lounge when the storm struck the house. They had been warning whatever of what was coming until the windows almost went out of the house, and almost immediately the whole house went into pieces. The girl was knocked unconscious by some flying debris, but was aroused by her mother calling her, when the two of them searched for the old gentleman. He could not be found and they went to a neighbor's for assistance and when they returned Mr. Lauffer was found with a heavy timber lying on his head, and had evidently been instantly killed.

The windstorm then continued to Meclum where a schoolhouse was wrecked the building being reduced to splinters and scattered for some distance over the fields. It passed thru the residence portion of Stevens Point where shade trees were twisted off and buildings demolished and others damaged. It is reported from there that fully one hundred buildings were damaged and that the loss will foot up to $100,000. It was a surprising thing that the inhabitants all escaped with their lives.

On the west side of the river another storm swept thru the towns of Seneca and Randolph in this county and thru the town of Carson and on north tearing down buildings and scattering them far and wide, uprooting trees and knocking down fences. No lives were lost, but it seemed almost a miracle that everybody escaped as luckily as they did.

Frank Sedall of the town of Sigel was in town the morning after the storm and reported that he and his family had had quite a thrilling experience. Mr. Sedall and one of the boys had been out to the barn taking care of the horses, and had just returned to the house when the storm struck the premises. The wind blew at a terrific rate, and it was evident to those in the house that there was something happening outside. They expected every minute that the house would be carried away, but it was evident that it was not right in the path of the storm, and it escaped with having the chimneys blown down and some of the shingles torn off. When Mr. Sedall went out to size up the damage he found that all of his outbuildings had been blown down. His hay barn, 30x60 feet and horse and cow stable were wrecked, making a loss that will probably amount to $500.

When Mr. Sedall went into his yard after the storm he found Stephen Green, one of his neighbors, in the yard with a bad cut in his forehead and another in his cheek and hip. Green was in a dazed condition and did not know where he was nor how he had come there. He was taken into the house where the blood was washed from him and he was given some dry clothing and a surgeon sent for, who dressed his wounds. Mr. Green's house and barn were both wrecked but the other members of the family escaped without injury.

John Stelmacher also had his barn and cowstable unroofed, but his house escaped without injury. At Mike Coss's place the roof was torn off the house and other damage done about the premises. The story is that Mr. Coss and his family were in the house at the time of the storm, but did not know that any damage had been done to the premises until it was all over, when they went out and found that the roof had been carried away slick and clean.

The home of Martin Jospin in the town of Randolph was badly wrecked, the house, barn and other buildings on the place being leveled to the ground and the contents strewn over the fields. One cow was killed by the stable being blown down, but the other stock escaped. Mr. Jospin is said to figure his loss at about three thousand dollars.

At Cornelius VanAsten's place considerable damage was done. The house was moved from the foundation and badly wrecked, but was not wrecked. Mr. VanAsten was badly cut with broken glass from the windows of the house, but was not seriously injured.

In the town of Carson in Portage county the storm struck the house of Mr. and Mrs. Eliza Hook. Both of the old people were injured. Mr. Hook so badly that he died after being taken to Stevens Point where he was placed in the hospital.

James Granger's place in the town of Sigel was also struck by the storm and considerable damage done. The roof of his barn was blown off, as well as that of the cow stable besides the residence being damaged, windows broken, etc. A number of fruit trees were also uprooted, making an aggregate loss of considerable.

First 11-11 sustained considerable damage at his place, his barn and stable being blown down and being practically a total loss. He figures that it will cost him in the neighborhood of $2,500 to replace what has been destroyed and his things up again in their proper shape.

First Schultz also had the roof blown off his barn and had other minor damages about the place.

August Reitz had his barn damaged, although it cannot be said just what his loss will be.

Julius Matthews figures that he had his standing timber damaged to the extent of about six hundred dollars.

Herman Kenger also had his barn damaged and the steeple was blown off the Catholic church and the steeple was otherwise damaged by having the windows broken out.

Charles Apple of the town of Seneca had his large barn wrecked and his dwelling house, which is built of brick, was damaged, the wrenching of it causing the brick work to crack in several places.

Win Patterson had one house killed and his barn wrecked, and also his house damaged to a considerable extent.

Stock Fair Tuesday.
—Next Tuesday, December 9, is stock fair day in Grand Rapids, and farmers and others interested in the matter should make it a point to be present.

Mr. Leonard of Amherst will be on hand to buy horses, and those having animals of large age should be on hand with their stock.

The fair this month will be on the west side of the river, and it is expected that there will be a good display for all kinds of stock, pigs and chickens. If you have anything to dispose of, don't forget to be there.

Tuesday, December 9, west side market square.

Memorial Services.
The local lodge of Elks will hold their annual memorial services at their hall on Sunday afternoon, December 6th at 2:30 o'clock. All Elks are requested to attend and take part in the services. Those memorial services are held once each year to perpetuate the memory of departed members of the order. An interesting program has been prepared for the occasion.

DON'T KISS THE BABIES

Osculation Dangerous to the Very Young and the Very Old, Says Famous French Physician.

The recent campaign had many hazards for candidates, but two little considerations have been given to the matter of baby-kissing and a contagion which is as deadly as the declaration of the famous French physician, Dr. Martinez, who writes of pernicious baby-kissing in his "Archives de Medicine des Enfants."

To kiss a woman or man, or a child, is to give him or her a dangerous disease, says the doctor, but to indulge in pernicious kissing in infancy is to provide the evil gods who reign in Tartarus with an easy method of inflicting harmful illness upon the nurse of men. The kiss is the heartless mother, the little round-eyed little in nothing less than a sink of contagion. And whenever you kiss one you are liable to fall a victim to one or all of the following interesting catalogue of ill-effects which are the result of the kiss: Scarlet fever, measles, whooping cough, tuberculosis, sunstroke, neurosis, influenza, nasal catarrh, galloping chorea, epilepsy, maxillary tetanus, bacterial nose, mumps, notorhiza, colic, paratyphoid, papillary tongue and tonsillitis.

As everybody knows, the doctor says, disease comes most often from the very young and the very old. It is not with, therefore, he suggests, that the extremely aged should be allowed to kiss babies, and as much for their own sake as for that of the little ones, for each may contribute to the other the germs that the human animal beyond further interest in mundane affairs. The theory is carried even further in regard to the choice of one's associates. It is well-known that people in extreme old age derive an increase of vitality and considerable rejuvenation from association with those who are in the full of youth. The law of compensation and balance exists in its inevitable influence, and what the aged plex and expensive processes is, of course, well known," said Capt. Warren, "but any process is the first by which it may be produced economically and utilized in an engine or a motor.

Economy in Its Use.

"In the process of burning coal and generating steam power in an engine an efficiency of from five to ten per cent. is the best that is realized with the most highly developed modern equipment, and this is not taking into account the manufacturing cost of the coal-mining, cleaning and transporting—or even the prodigious cost of merely shoveling it into the furnace, this latter item in the case of the Lusitania amounting to nearly as much as the cost of the coal delivered aboard ship. All this is eliminated when we manufacture our fuel as we go along, drawing our own supply of raw material without cost from the boundless ocean of water and air in which nature has stored ready to hand limitless supplies of fuel energy in the form of hydrogen and oxygen, to be had for the taking and costing nothing but the harnessing of the inexhaustible abundance that yields us mechanical power so essential to human advancement.

"Suppose carbonic acid, the product of carbon and oxygen in combustion, were readily condensable into liquid form at atmospheric pressure and temperature, would we not then be found endeavoring to effect its immediate decomposition into its constituent gases, the most perfect expression of love, but it should be kept for the intimate, the ecstatic, the supreme moments of life, and never, never, given in public."

"Not so with hydrogen. When burned with oxygen it takes the form of highly rarefied aqueous vapor which is immediately condensable into water at ordinary temperatures, and we can immediately recover it in form adapted to our needs.

In Heating Value.

"The heating value of hydrogen in combination with oxygen is 69,000 heat units per pound. The heating value of the best coal is about 14,000 heat units per pound. Heat units mean power units, and it is best units we want when we buy fuel. A process for the manufacture of hydrogen on a basis that will yield us more heat units for a dollar than a dollar will buy in the form of coal must obviously put an end to the use of coal for fuel, for hydrogen is a perfect fuel. It leaves no ash, makes no smoke or poisonous gas, and being derived from water and being made as required, it requires no transportation or handling."

"But what is the secret of the production of this new motive power?" Capt. Warren was asked.

"The secret of the production of hydrogen for fuel lies in the successful manipulation of that mysterious force in nature called chemical affinity of elements—in other words, the isolation of the hydrogen under certain conditions and its recombination through combustion with the oxygen with which it was originally associated in the form of water."

While Mr. Warren would not discuss in detail his methods by which nature is thus to be tapped and her exhaustless sources of fuel made available to the airplane, the automobile and other power plants, it is known that the process is chemical and economical and by its adoption fuel will be provided in condensed and portable form within the reach of all.

Thus the world will have made the

NOTES FROM MEADOWBROOK FARM

By William Pitt

Always take your wife into your confidence and let her help you work out the hard problems.

Care must always be taken in feeding the cow after old drys. The change should be gradual.

The last call to clean out all the stock which will not pay their way through the winter season.

Feed all stock so that there will be a gain. It is a losing business to feed so as to just keep them even.

Ask the wife's advice and follow it after it is given. You cannot go far wrong when you trust her judgment.

Keep the skim milk on the farm. You cannot afford to let it go. Separator, sell the cream and feed the milk to the pigs and calves.

A windbreak for the orchard would prove a good thing and evergreens are about the best for this purpose. Plan to set some out in the spring.

Plan to improve the long winter evenings by some course of study or reading and in planning out the work for next season. Try each year to have new ideas worked out.

One method of feeding molasses to horses or other stock is to mix it with water and dampen the hay which has been cut into short lengths. Then to this the ground feed may be added.

Fall plowing of the ground is good both because it exposes many insects to the killing frosts of winter, and also because it puts the ground into condition for early planting in the spring.

If you have kept a record of your field operations and made note of soil and crop conditions during the growing season you will have valuable memoranda for comparison with the actual results obtained and will thus be able intelligently to determine what are the best methods for you to follow in your farm operations.

The department of agriculture has estimated that the crop values will amount to eight billions of dollars—five hundred millions more than last year. Who dares to say that this has been a poor year? It has been a trying one in some respects and some sections have suffered, but taken as a whole the farmers have done better than ever before. Praise God from whom all blessings flow.

To have good silage one must have a good silo. If you are going to build one and want to get the best information regarding the best types of silos, send to the Iowa Agricultural college for its recent bulletin on silage construction. This bulletin gives in condensed form the advantages and disadvantages of all the various types of silos, together with practical hints on their construction. Profuse illustrations aid in making the meaning clear. It is a pamphlet that will be invaluable to any farmer or dairyman who is contemplating the erection of a silo.

Farmers who are in any way engaged in fruit raising will be interested in the program planned by the Illinois State Horticultural society for its annual convention at Champaign. It proposes to give a course of lectures and laboratory work along practical horticulture lines in addition to the usually interesting program, which includes instruction in the propagation of plants by seeds, cutting and grafting, the grading and packing of fruits and the selection and judging of exhibition fruits. Three whole days will be devoted to the subject of spraying, in its various phases. Three sessions will be given to the study of the demonstration of pruning fruit trees. Due attention will be given to landscape gardening, floriculture and vegetable gardening.

All the uncultivated, unproductive lands are not to be found in the gray old west, nor in the swamp lands of some of our southeastern states. They are to be found in small patches on the numerous farms throughout the country. And why so? Because our farmers are thoughtless and careless and do not by the best methods get the most out of their soil. By special treatment there is scarcely a square foot of ground on any farm which cannot be made to pay a profit. How much of your farm is practically worthless? Study it up. Don't let it lie idle any longer. If it needs draining, tile it. If it needs building up, put stock on it and fertilize it. If it needs the remedy, your state agricultural college stands ready to help you. Get the advice of the experts to be found there. Not one quarter of our farmers are availing themselves of the helping hand which our state agricultural experts are only too glad to extend to every one who asks.

The silos from the fruit trees intended for grafting purposes next spring should be selected at once. Those cut now will have more vigor in the spring than if cut after exposure to severe cold. Cut only the best ripened wood from the past season's growth, and select from trees known to be well. Mark sections carefully and pack in small boxes of damp (not wet) sawdust or sand. Cuttings of grapes, currants, quinces, gooseberries, etc., may now be made and preserved in the same way. Beware of San Jose on scions or cuttings.

Monkeys stock never brought success to a poultry raiser.

Ground troubled with white grubs should be fall plowed.

Corn and oats ground together make a fine ration for the stock.

It's the slovenly farmer who allows the chickens to roost in the barn.

Cleanliness is an essential factor in successful sheep farming. Provide clean drinking water, and clean yards.

Wheat can't be beat as a poultry feed, but corn should be fed with it to supply the starchy food needed.

Go through the orchard and destroy all cecidians and egg clusters on trunks, branches, etc. Clean up the ground, also, and burn the litter.

Clean milk cannot be produced from cows kept in filthy surroundings. There is nothing which is so easily contaminated as milk.

Corn is not objectionable as a ration for the brood sow if too much is not fed and if oats or other grain rich in protein is provided.

Twenty parts common lime, five parts ash and 15 parts of water when mixed well and then bottled make good fire extinguishing granules.

Let us raise more sheep and supply the constantly increasing demand for wool. A shepherd too much wool has to be imported. The farms would be better and the farmers richer if they raised more sheep.

Put the farm tools and machines up for the winter, but before doing so be sure they are cleaned and oiled. The time spent now will not only prolong the life of the tools but will save you valuable time in the spring.

Care for the cows right now and they will keep up the milk flow all winter. It is in the fall when the change from summer to winter conditions is made that most cows suffer. Let the change be as gradual as possible.

When you burn up good money when you burn up the leaves. Save them for bedding or rake in a pile and cover over with branches to prevent blowing away. It will make fine compost for the garden and for potting plants.

Scatter wood ashes around the poultry yard. They will purify the ground and the chickens will pick up the small bits of charcoal. This is good for them. And this reminds us to urge you not to forget to provide suitable grits for them.

To mark your tools effectively do it with nitric acid. Place beeswax or tallow on place where metal is to be etched out and scratch the letters through the wax. Pour the acid in the groove thus formed and after a few minutes clean off and you will find your name in the steel to stay.

The Texas experiment station has by test shown that in feeding a ton of cotton seed meal having a fertilizer valuation of $29.50 to fattening animals, that portion of its fertility which passes into the solid excrement has a valuation of about $12.40, and about $15. Here is proof of the importance of saving the liquid manure.

One of the indications that there is a growing interest in agriculture is the increasing space which the magazines of the country are giving to subjects of this kind. Not a month goes by now but that one or more of the big magazines has articles on agricultural topics. "The Awakening of the Farmer," in October Atlantic, should be especially helpful and suggestive to the farmer.

More gasoline engines are finding their way on to the farm every year. A good indication of the improvement in this direction is found in the increasing exhibits each year of gasoline engines at the state and county fairs and the interest shown by farmers in these exhibits. Even on the small farm where the call for power is small, the use of the gasoline engine is proving itself of economic value.

It would be interesting, nay, rather appalling, if accurate figures were obtainable as to the losses sustained by farmers every year through neglect of farm machinery. How much of the machinery of your farm has been properly housed and cared for? Remember! Remember! Into the shed after bringing it from the field. It should be cleaned and oiled thoroughly so that rust cannot get in its destructive work.

Why not a course of study in salesmanship in our agricultural colleges? If there is a farmer in which the average farmer is weak it is knowing how to dispose of his produce to the best advantage. Such a course could be arranged to teach the farmer what he should know about the distribution of the farm products of the world. He will then learn to dispose of his goods scientifically, instead of the advanced farmer raises his scientificity.

Lime sulphur wash for spraying for San Jose is made as follows: To make 150 gallons of the mixture, take 150 pounds of best stone lime and 50 pounds of sulphur. Make a paste of the sulphur and have from 15 to 20 gallons of boiling water in an iron cauldron over a brisk fire. Into this hot water, immediately adding the lime, dump the sulphur. Stir the mixture with a long pole, or use a pump, until it looks as red as canned tomatoes. It must be vigorously stirred all the while, when it gets as smooth as glass. Then add a sufficient amount of hot water to make 150 gallons. Strain through fine wire sieve or netting. Apply while mixture is still warm. Use apply while mixture is still warm. Use apply while mixture is still warm. Use apply while mixture is still warm.

FIGURES OF THE RECENT ELECTION

RESULTS AS SHOWN BY THE OFFICIAL RETURNS.

TAFT'S MAJORITY WAS 81,969

Vote Very Little Larger Than That Cast in 1904—Gov. Davidson Fell Behind the Head of the Ticket.

Madison, Nov. 25.—William Howard Taft carried Wisconsin by a plurality of 81,969. The vote was but a little larger than the vote for president in 1904; about 5,000. Taft received 312,540 less votes than did Roosevelt in 1904, while Bryan received 42,499 more votes than did Parker in 1904. Taft's heaviest loss, over 4,000 votes, was in Milwaukee county. Next comes Dane, where he lost in round numbers 1,700 votes.

Official returns from state officers show that Gov. Davidson's plurality was 77,111 or 4,861 less than the plurality of Mr. Taft.

The pluralities of the other state officials were: Dahl, 88,620; Frear, 86,996; Gilbert, 86,227; Strange, 83,864; Beedle, 81,804. It will be seen that the governor's plurality was exceeded by 11,580 in the case of Secretary Frear down to 4,694 in the case of Insurance Commissioner Beedle.

Mr. Aylward, Democratic candidate for governor, received 8,576 more votes for the worst man on his ticket, and 9,201 more than the next highest man on the ticket, which was William Guillemae, candidate for insurance commissioner. With these two exceptions the vote for the Democratic state officers was but little over 167,000. While Gov. Davidson ran 5,615 votes behind Taft, he had more votes than Taft in 19 counties in the state. The counties which the governor carried over Taft were: Adams, Bayfield, Barron, Burnett, Door, Forest, Jackson, Juneau, Kenosha, Kewaunee, La Crosse, Lafayette, Polk, Rusk, Sawyer, Shawano, Vernon, Winnebago and Winona.

The counties where the vote was the same were: Brown, Florence, Monroe and Vilas. Davidson's losses, as compared with Taft's vote, were heaviest in Milwaukee, Dodge and Racine counties. Trempealeau county, where the governor made a hot campaign for T. T. Twesme, gave him 127 votes less than he gave for Taft, which, in view of the feeling aroused, is somewhat remarkable. Crawford, the governor's home county, gave him 25 votes less than it gave Taft.

On the Democratic side the table shows that Aylward ran but 750 votes behind Bryan in the state, and ran away ahead of any of the other candidates on the state ticket.

The vote for the Social Democrat and Prohibition candidates seems to have followed the vote for president. Brown, the Social Democrat candidate for governor, ran 455 votes ahead of Debs, while Cox, the Prohibition candidate for governor, ran a little over 100 behind Chaffin, the Prohibition candidate of the party.

The official figures are as follows:

The most sudden change we have had in the weather in this vicinity for some time occurred on Monday evening. Reports from other parts of the country were to the effect that they got it even worse than it was here, the cold in many places being accompanied by snow that piled into impassable drifts.

The abundance of honey this season, its moderate price and the fact that it is one of the most wholesome sweets is not to be overlooked in this year of inequality in the various food supplies. This has been one of the greatest white clover seasons on record hereabouts, although other regions have not been so much favored and the bees have not lost a moment of the working time nor gone on a strike for higher pay. Honey is worthy of a liberal place in the diet of the country. The bees are pure food workers and do their best with the materials afforded them, which this year have been of the finest.

A certain farmer, to use a slang expression, "ain't so slow," as will be seen by the following little incident which occurred in a local hardware store recently. "Don't you want to buy a bicycle to ride about your farm?" asked one of the clerks as he was wrapping up the goods. "They're cheap now. I can get you a first-class one for $25.00." "I'd rather put $25 into a cow," replied the farmer. "But think," persisted the clerk, "how foolish you would look riding around on a cow." "O, I don't know," replied the farmer, stroking his chin, "no more foolish I guess than I would miking a bicycle."

Wisconsin is paying larger amounts for bonuses on wolves and other wild animals than any other surrounding state, according to a statement prepared by Secretary of State Fennell and published by the Milwaukee Journal. During last year this department has carried on an investigation of the bonuses paid, requiring that in cases of uncertainty that the claims be sent to the department for examination by Prof. George Wagner of the University of Wisconsin. Acting upon this request, nearly 300 supposed wolf skulls were submitted by county clerks, and over one-half of those were determined by experts to belong to dogs, foxes and animals other than wolves.

Marshfield News:—The Roddis Veneer factory cut a log into veneer last week that was felled in the forests of the Hawaiian Islands. The measurement of the stick was 12 feet long and 30 inches square and was transported by E. A. Howard & Co., of San Francisco, California who sent it to the Roddis factory to be cut into veneer and made into panels. It is known as Koa and is a member of the mahogany family, a beautiful specimen of wood. In its far away home the Koa tree grows in abundance. The stick sent here is for export and if it is found it can be used as a substitute for mahogany in the manufacture of pianos and costly furniture it will find a ready market in this country as it is much cheaper than mahogany. The fact that a log from the Hawaiian Islands was manufactured into veneer in Marshfield is a bit of history to be remembered.

A doctor at Buffalo, N. Y., has made another "discovery." He has discovered that the cancer germ is carried and distributed by the worms that crawl over lettuce, cabbage and other "garden sass." Also that no amount of boiling will destroy these germs, so that if you eat the things you are taking your life right in your hands, or mouth, as the case may be. It was discovered years ago that all kinds of fruit had germs and bacteria on it, enough of them contained in the fuzzy skin of a peach to inoculate a whole army of men with a multitude of diseases. If it were possible to divide the peach up small enough, meat in all forms has been decided by vegetarians and certain religious sects to be unfit for food, and there you are. The wonderful thing is that there are any people on the earth at all.

Fred Beell and Tom Jenkins, the past veterans, will meet again in the present arrangement carries. The match will be held at some large city in the east during Christmas week. They met in New York two years ago, when Harvey Parker of Massachusetts was handling Beell, and in acquiescent was handling Beell, and in private wrestled for $1000 a side in Billy Elmer's gymnasium before a crowd of about one hundred sports, including about a dozen representatives. The fight was fast and furious, and for two hours and forty-three minutes Fred and Jenkins at his mercy and he pinned him for the first fall. But the referee was fixed and Beell lost the other two falls in less than ten minutes. The New York World and other papers credited it with being the greatest wrestling contest ever pulled off in this country. Mr. Jenkins retired from the mat after this match and was appointed by President Roosevelt as athletic instructor at the military academy at West Point.

Howard & Co., of San Francisco, California who sent it to the Roddis factory to be cut into veneer and made into panels. It is known as Koa and is a member of the mahogany family, a beautiful specimen of wood. In its far away home the Koa tree grows in abundance. The stick sent here is for export and if it is found it can be used as a substitute for mahogany in the manufacture of pianos and costly furniture it will find a ready market in this country as it is much cheaper than mahogany. The fact that a log from the Hawaiian Islands was manufactured into veneer in Marshfield is a bit of history to be remembered.

A doctor at Buffalo, N. Y., has made another "discovery." He has discovered that the cancer germ is carried and distributed by the worms that crawl over lettuce, cabbage and other "garden sass." Also that no amount of boiling will destroy these germs, so that if you eat the things you are taking your life right in your hands, or mouth, as the case may be. It was discovered years ago that all kinds of fruit had germs and bacteria on it, enough of them contained in the fuzzy skin of a peach to inoculate a whole army of men with a multitude of diseases. If it were possible to divide the peach up small enough, meat in all forms has been decided by vegetarians and certain religious sects to be unfit for food, and there you are. The wonderful thing is that there are any people on the earth at all.

Fred Beell and Tom Jenkins, the past veterans, will meet again in the present arrangement carries. The match will be held at some large city in the east during Christmas week. They met in New York two years ago, when Harvey Parker of Massachusetts was handling Beell, and in acquiescent was handling Beell, and in private wrestled for $1000 a side in Billy Elmer's gymnasium before a crowd of about one hundred sports, including about a dozen representatives. The fight was fast and furious, and for two hours and forty-three minutes Fred and Jenkins at his mercy and he pinned him for the first fall. But the referee was fixed and Beell lost the other two falls in less than ten minutes. The New York World and other papers credited it with being the greatest wrestling contest ever pulled off in this country. Mr. Jenkins retired from the mat after this match and was appointed by President Roosevelt as athletic instructor at the military academy at West Point.

HER MESSAGE TO SISTER SUE

Mrs. Chatter's Instructions to Hubby Were Long Drawn Out.

"Henry, dear," said little Mrs. Chatter to her husband while he was drawing on his top coat preparing to make the rush for the train that was to take him into the city. "You know our phone is working this morning, and I do want to send Sister Sue a message in regard to meeting her this afternoon in the city. Could you, dear, ring Sue up on your phone in the office and give her a message from me? You can as well as not? Thank you, dear. Well, see her if you don't see in to town and if Cousin Ed doesn't come to take me to ride in her auto this afternoon, as she said she might, but you know how reckless Cousin Ed is with her promises, and it wouldn't surprise me if she never thought of it again, but if she should come I don't want to take the ride, and I'll try to get Sue on the phone by that time and let her know if I go to ride, or if little Billy Brington doesn't come over to have me help her on that programme we are arranging for the benefit of the day nursery. Tell Sue I will meet her in the waiting room at Edgely's at 3, or if it may be a quarter after or a quarter before, or if she'd rather have me meet her some place else tell her to try to ring me up and let me know. I guess our phone will be working by that time. Tell her it is the reason I didn't ring her up that I said I would, and tell her to try to think to bring me my hatpin and my lace handkerchief that I left when we stayed all night with her Monday night, and ask her, if I didn't leave one of my gloves there, and tell her that, for all that, I think we'd better meet at some place other than Edgely's because that is so far from where we are going, and ask her to try to think to bring me the recipe for that new kind of cake we had at dinner Monday night, for I'd like to try a loaf of it when we have the Bringtons here to dinner Friday. You see, of course you must get your train, dear. Run along. Only be sure to ring Sue up and tell her that she'd better ring me about noon, and—goodbye! Don't forget!—Puck.

Marshfield News:—The Lindsey correspondent to the News writes that an almost fatal accident happened to J. C. Smith on Thursday of last week while engaged in blowing out stumps with dynamite. Mr. Smith lives in the town of Lynn, four miles south of Lindsey. On the day in question he placed a half pound stick of dynamite under a stump and lighting the fuse retired to a safe distance. As it did not explode he went up to find out the cause. Just as he reached the stump the explosion took place. His left eye was blown out, and the other so badly injured that it is feared it cannot be saved. His nose was split open and his lips and chin badly lacerated. He was taken to Dane County, his former home.

The only other portrait of an American painter in the gallery is that of G. P. A. Feely. The two salons of painters in the palace contain the portraits of famous artists of all nations nearly all done by the artists themselves.

ARCHBOLD IS HEARD

VICE-PRESIDENT OF STANDARD IS PUT ON THE STAND.

ROCKEFELLER ENDS STORY

Testifies That When the Combine Was Effected He Owned Nearly One-Third of the Company's Stock.

New York.—John D. Rockefeller was replaced on the stand by Vice-President John D. Archbold of the Standard Oil Company Tuesday afternoon in the government's suit to dissolve that organization.

Mr. Archbold beamed with satisfaction in telling of the Standard's early history. His clear blue eyes twinkled when he told of the industrial fight, saying that he kept careful watch on his competitor and then "tried to beat him."

After telling of his earlier experiences in the oil industry, Mr. Archbold said the introduction of refined oil for domestic use was most difficult because of opposition of the public as a result of fraud and burning quality. From 1870 to 1875 the multiplication of refineries brought about a glut of oil, which caused a fluctuation of prices of oil. There were no systems of reserve or storage, he added. Speculation in oil stocks was rampant, and even the price of oil was speculated in, which demoralized the business and made it hazardous for the manufacturer. The management of gathering lines was very bad, said Mr. Archbold.

Tells of Stock Ownership. Mr. Rockefeller testified that at the time of the organization of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey in 1882 he owned 256,854 shares of its stock out of a total issue of 933,383 shares.

For the first time since he has been on the witness stand at this hearing Mr. Rockefeller was a little late in arriving Tuesday. Frank B. Kellogg, the government's special assistant attorney-general, resumed his cross-examination, taking up the organization of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey where he ended it Monday. Mr. Kellogg read what he said was a list of the shareholders of the Standard Oil Company in 1889 for which it had exchanged its own shares. He said that $12,797 out of a total of $93,383 shares first issued were in the name of John D. Rockefeller.

Mr. Rockefeller said he did not own so much stock as that but did own 256,854 shares of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey at that time and that he accepted the other stock and distributed it to the proper stockholders. He added that frequently holders of certificates of the Standard Oil trust exchanged them for stock in the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey rather than accept shares of the various subsidiary companies.

"I turned over my trust certificates to the liquidating trustees," said Mr. Rockefeller, "and obtained a paper on which I secured shares in the constituent companies, which I turned in to the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey."

Mr. Rockefeller declared that he never acted as an attorney for any one in this process of liquidation. Trust Not John D. Idea. New York.—Credit for the creation of the Standard Oil trust, which counsel for the federal government claim still exists as the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, was given by John D. Rockefeller, as a witness Monday under cross-examination in the federal suit to dissolve the Standard, to two men—Henry M. Flagler and Samuel C. T. Todd.

To these two master architects of the oil combine Mr. Rockefeller gave full credit, saying that he was not even exempt as he did not possess the ability for so progressive a move. Mr. Rockefeller spent an arduous day on the stand under the incessant questioning of Frank B. Kellogg, the government counsel, and when adjournment was taken he gave every indication of delight that the day was done.

FEAR CONFLICT IN BALKANS.

Alarming Rumors Demoralize the Austro-Hungarian Bourgeois.

Vienna.—Demoralization, resulting from rumors of a forthcoming conflict in the Balkans, seized the bourgeois here and at Budapest Thursday and brought many of the prices below the level reached in the panic during the recent Balkan crisis. Many adverse rumors in circulation here obviously are unfounded, but rest anxiety surrounds the grave Austro-Turkish relations and the divergent views concerning the conference indicated in Russia's latest note to Austria. Further alarm was created by an apparently well-grounded report of the approaching conclusion of an anti-Austrian treaty between Turkey, Serbia and Montenegro.

LAMPHERE GUILTY OF ARSON

IS SENTENCED TO PRISON FOR TWO TO 21 YEARS.

Verdict is a Compromise—Several Jurors Held Out Long for Life Sentence for Murder.

Lafayette, Ind.—Ray Lamphere, charged with the murder of Mrs. Belle Guinness and her three children, by setting fire to the Guinness house April 28, was found guilty of arson Thursday evening by the jury which had the case since 5:30 o'clock Wednesday evening.

Within five minutes after the verdict was reported, Judge Richter had sentenced the defendant to the state penitentiary at Michigan City for an indeterminate term of from two to 21 years. He will be taken to Michigan City at once to begin his sentence.

Attorney Warden for the defense said that a motion for a new trial would be made, and should it be refused, an appeal to the Indiana supreme court would follow. The Indiana supreme court is two years behind in its work and so this case could not be reached until after Lamphere had served the minimum term of his sentence.

The verdict was something of a compromise. Several members of the jury, it is understood, held out for a life sentence in the first degree with a life sentence. So far as could be learned, none was for hanging. Lamphere Thursday night said that he was confident the dead body in the fire was Mrs. Guinness' regardless of what other people may think. He reiterated his innocence of setting fire to the house, though admitting that he was on the road and saw the fire.

He did not see Mrs. Guinness kill Helgelein.

"I have no complaint to make about the verdict. Things looked pretty blue, but the verdict might have been worse."

TORNADO DEAD NUMBER 21.

Property Damage in Arkansas Greater Than Was Expected.

Little Rock, Ark.—Latest reports from western Arkansas show that although first reports of the number of deaths in Monday's tornado were exaggerated, the property damage will be greater than expected.

Reports so far give names of four known dead and about 15 known injured. Seventeen other deaths are reported, but names are not given. One tornado started in the extreme southwestern part of the state and went north, following the second tier of counties from the western boundary to the north.

The counties through which the tornado passed are Lafayette, Columbia, Miller, Pike, Howard, Henderson, Montgomery, Yell, Pope, Johnson, Franklin and Carroll.

The storm also visited Ozark, where nothing has been heard yet; Lodi, near Texarkana, where three buildings were destroyed and a woman injured; Lewisville, in Lafayette county, where grooves in the ground were done; and several buildings destroyed; Berryville, where eight people were injured but not seriously, and a number of residences were wrecked; Palmers, where great damage is reported, and Jellico and Wallersville, which towns are reported to have been completely wrecked.

12 WEDDINGS, ONE DIVORCE.

Startling Statistics on Legal Separations in United States.

Washington.—Higher divorce rate in the United States than in any of the foreign countries where statistics are available, is announced by the census bureau, which in a bulletin last issued, says that at least one marriage in twelve in this country ultimately terminates in divorce.

The report covers the 20 years from 1887 to 1906, inclusive. From 1887 to 1906 there were 12,832 marriages and 915,025 divorces, against 328,716 divorces for the preceding 20 years. Divorce is now 2½ times as common, compared with the married population, as it was 40 years ago. Utah and Connecticut are the only two states showing decreased divorce rate. Divorce caused 38.9 of the total divorces in the 20 years.

Elopers Are Given $50,000. New York.—Pleased at his son's pluck in defying parental authority to the extent of wedding the girl he loved, whether or not, Capt. John Fleming, a wealthy contractor and his first-uncle had cooled, summoned the couple to him Tuesday and placed a check for $50,000 in his son's hand.

"You're all right, my boy," said Capt. Fleming. "I'm proud of you because you went right ahead and married the girl you loved. Now go where you like and don't come back until you have spent this."

PEST ON MICHIGAN FARMS

FIVE HERDS HAVE THE FOOT AND MOUTH DISEASE.

Secretary Wilson Arrives in Detroit After Investigating the Conditions at Buffalo, N. Y.

Detroit, Mich.—On five farms in Livonia township Tuesday were found 100 cattle infected with foot and mouth disease. These cattle will be killed. Secretary of Agriculture Wilson and Dr. A. D. Melvin of the United States bureau of animal industry arrived late at night for a conference with the officials already here.

After the conference, a quarantine was ordered against Michigan cattle similar to the one enforced in Pennsylvania and New York.

Buffalo, N. Y.—Secretary James Wilson of the department of agriculture spent Tuesday in a personal investigation of the work being done to stamp out the outbreak of foot and mouth disease.

Dr. J. D. Melvin, chief of the bureau of animal industry, and James M. Pickens, editor of the bureau's publications. "It is very gratifying to me," said Secretary Wilson, "to find the state and federal authorities working in entire harmony. Work of this kind can be productive only of the best results."

State Commissioner Perkins stated that the eight herds of infected cattle at Akron, N. Y., had been killed and that the only known cases now existing were in four herds near Lockport, and in one herd near Penn Yan. London.—The board of agriculture has ordered the slaughter without delay of the cattle on board the four steamers that have arrived in England since the board issued its order prohibiting the importation of cattle from New York and Pennsylvania on account of the foot and mouth disease in those states. The animals that came in by three vessels were found to be free of the disease, but no chance was given to the animals to be housed since the board issued its order prohibiting the importation of cattle from New York and Pennsylvania on account of the foot and mouth disease in those states. Union City, Tenn.—The little town of Tiptonville, bordering on Reelfoot lake, which has been the scene of many stirring incidents in the past month, witnessed the lynching, late Tuesday afternoon, of three negroes, who were arrested in the morning for murdering Special Deputy Sheriff Richard Burris, and fatally wounding Deputy John Hall.

The negroes were Marshall Stineback, Edward Stineback and Jim Stineback. These brothers created a disturbance at a religious meeting near Tiptonville Saturday night. When the two officers attempted to arrest them, a fight ensued in which the officers were shot.

Walters, an aged veteran of the civil war, and his daughter, Emma, 40 years old, were found Sunday. The room was filled with gas and all the coals of a gas stove were turned on. It is the theory of the coroner that Miss Walters died first and that her death was due to heart disease. Later, the coroner thinks, the father entered and upon beholding the body of his daughter, committed suicide.

TOGA FOR CUMMINS AT LAST.

Iowa Governor Elected to Succeed Late W. B. Allison.

Des Moines, Ia.—Gov. A. B. Cummins became United States senator at 12:20 Tuesday. Cummins received 106 votes; Porter, (Dem.) 35. Three Republicans did not vote. He long a leader of the progressive Republicans of Iowa, was formally elected United States senator to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Senator William B. Allison. No suspicion has arisen of a bolt by the stand-pat members of the legislature, which re-elected him.

Re-elected, Cummins reasons the national chairman admittedly possesses a comprehensive as well as a technical knowledge of postal affairs, gained by a protracted experience as first assistant and acting postmaster general. Mr. Hitchcock, accompanied by Charles H. Boynton of New York, left here Friday night for Washington, where Saturday night he will be guest of honor at a dinner given by the executive and advisory committees of the national committee. He then will visit headquarters in New York. It is altogether probable that from this time on Mr. Hitchcock will be frequently in conference with Judge Taft.

PACT WITH JAPAN IS MADE.

Important Agreement Between America and Mikado's Country.

Washington.—Despite official reticence, information from reliable sources has been obtained of a significant, far-reaching importance between the United States and Japan covering the policy of the two countries in the Pacific.

The agreement is based on the idea of encouraging and defending free and peaceful commercial development in the Pacific. It contains not only a mutual guaranty to respect each other's territorial possessions there, but defines the attitude of the two countries towards China, binding each to defend by every peaceful means China's independence and integrity, and to give equal commercial opportunity to the Chinese empire to all nations. But more important still, the agreement, in the event of complications threatening the status quo, binds the United States and Japan to consult each other with a view to acting together.

Before shooting herself, Mrs. Cowper wrote letters to her lawyer, Judge Herbert B. A brief history of her life, largely devoted to recounting her career on the stage, was found in her effects.

HITCHCOCK CHOSEN

WILL BE POSTMASTER GENERAL IN TAFT'S CABINET.

HAS ACCEPTED THE PLACE

Republican National Chairman First One Selected Because of His Ability to Advise the President-Elect.

Hot Springs, Va.—Frank H. Hitchcock has been offered and has accepted the position of postmaster general in the Taft cabinet that is to be.

The official announcement of this conclusion regarding the first cabinet selection of President-elect Taft doubtless will not be made until Mr. Taft has completed his cabinet, at which time it will be announced en bloc. Because of this view of the situation no expression regarding the location of Mr. Hitchcock was obtainable for publication from either Mr. Taft or the Republican national chairman. There were many reasons, it was pointed out, why it was expedient that Mr. Hitchcock's status should be fixed, at least so far as the principals are concerned, and a complete understanding is known to exist between them. As chairman of the Republican national committee, Mr. Hitchcock became more familiar than any other person with the political phase of questions likely to arise at the beginning of the Taft administration and the knowledge he gained regarding the personnel of the party will be of great service to Mr. Taft throughout his administration.

Besides these reasons the national chairman admittedly possesses a comprehensive as well as a technical knowledge of postal affairs, gained by a protracted experience as first assistant and acting postmaster general. Mr. Hitchcock, accompanied by Charles H. Boynton of New York, left here Friday night for Washington, where Saturday night he will be guest of honor at a dinner given by the executive and advisory committees of the national committee. ## KELLNER

Our section of the country was visited by a cyclone last Wednesday night. It started south of here about three and one-half miles and went northeast. It passed Kellner about a mile east of Chris Brandt's residence. C. W. Beckman's property narrowly escaped destruction as it knocked down a strip of timber only a short way from the house. It destroyed a large strip of timber on the Gottlieb Jocke's homestead. The bridge across the four mile creek near the John Eberhart school house was lifted from the piers and carried about one hundred rods into Frank Rausel's farm. Frank Mahala had a number of small barns unroofed and torn to pieces. The Chas. Lander house was entirely destroyed and Mr. Lander killed. His wife and daughter were seriously injured. Some of the Lander house was carried nearly half a mile. Part of V. Wisniewski's house was entirely demolished and the other part lifted from the foundation and placed on the ground. Although it did a great deal of damage it would have been far worse if it had gone a few rods east or west of its course.

The spring water being shut off for so long a time was quite a hardship to a good many people as drinking water had either to be carried from across the river or else it was necessary to boil the water from the river in order to be sure that it was fit for drinking purposes. As plain bottled water is anything but palatable, most of the people carried their water.
